Fr Mark Stafford writes

Remember, remember the Fifth of November... November is often a month of looking back, of reflecting on our past, and also past activities and incidents that have shaped our lives, world and national culture.

For children, November is a time of fireworks and parties. As a nation we remember the activities of Guy Fawkes on the fifth of November 1605.

Guy or Guido Fawkes, a Catholic convert, fought for Catholic Spain in the Eighty Years' War against Protestant Dutch reformers in the Low Countries. Together with Thomas Wintour, and Robert Catesby, Fawkes planned to assassinate King James I and restore a Catholic monarch to the English throne. The plotters leased an undercroft beneath the House of Lords and started to stockpile gunpowder under the House. Following an anonymous tip off, Fawkes was discovered with the stockpile of explosives, questioned, tortured, and eventually executed for planning to blow up Parliament.

And so began the long tradition of fires, and fireworks, that has captivated the hearts and minds of many a generation of children. Today, the joys of a bag of bangers, watching the Catherine wheel leaving the fence at high speed and being chased down the garden by a jumping jack, seem to have vanished into the history books, as safer public events have taken the place of back yard fireworks parties.

During November we also call to mind other more significant times of crisis and loss. On the 11th we remember the ceasing of hostile fire in the first Great War at 11am on 11 November 1918.

The armistice was agreed at 5.10am on 11 November and came into effect that morning at 11am. Although the news was conveyed around Europe within the hour, unfortunately, not all on the front lines heard or obeyed and on 11 November alone there were nearly 11,000 additional casualties, deaths, or soldiers reported as missing or injured. The original armistice was for a period of 36 days, after which it had to be renewed. This was done four times before the Treaty of Versailles was signed and a hoped-for lasting peace agreed.

On the battle fields of the Great War, poppies were a common sight, especially on the Western Front where poppies flourished in the soil churned up by the fighting and shelling. The flower provided Canadian doctor John McCrae with inspiration for his poem 'In Flanders Fields', which he wrote whilst serving in Ypres in 1915.

Poppies have been sold in Britain since 1921 to raise money for the Earl Haig Fund to help support ex-servicemen and the families of those who had died in the conflict. Selling poppies proved so popular that in 1922 the British Legion founded the Richmond poppy factory to produce its own. It continues to do so today.

Today the poppy has become a symbol of remembrance, not only for those who died in the first Great War, but also for those who have died and are still being killed in conflicts. This wider memorial is on the Sunday following the 11th, Remembrance Sunday. On Remembrance Sunday we will remember all who died in conflict, we will pray for them, and we will pray for lasting peace and lay poppy wreaths at war memorials across the country.

On November 1 the Church celebrates All Saints' Day and on the next day All Souls' (although we had our service a few days early). We remember those who we have loved and lost at All Souls' tide and then on All Saints' Day we pray for those who died because of their faith. We will remember them by name, light candles and hold them in our prayers.

Whilst Bonfire night was quickly jumped on and claimed by Standard Fireworks and the commercial providers of epic displays and events, the more significant acts of memorial have, for the most part remained in the hands of the Royal British Legion and the Church. Instead of an offering of quickly forgotten sparklers and fireworks, those who come to Church to reflect and remember are offered an eternal light, that shines in the darkness, brings comfort to those who mourn, and hope to those who look for peace, for Jesus said "I am the light of the world", a light that shines in the darkness, a light which the darkness of war, the darkness of grief can never overcome.

November is a month of remembering, a month to remember those who we have lost, to call to mind times of conflict, but also a month to remember the peace that Jesus can bring to all situations in life and beyond.

WHAT'S ON IN NOVEMBER

On Tuesday 8th at 1.05 pm, we continue our Bach Lunchtime Recitals.

Remembrance Day Sunday 13th - We will gather outside Church at around 10.35am to meet the Remembrance Day parade and at 11am we will have an act of Remembrance and wreath laying at the War Memorial. This will be followed by a memorial service in Church - please feel free to come and join us for this act of Remembrance and Worship.

Fireside Friday - As of Friday 18th we will be opening Ewell Hall as a warm space. The hall will be open from 12 noon - 4pm. If you are worried about the cost of heating, come and have a warm-up in the hall. Working from home? Bring the laptop and log on to our WIFI. We will provide free hot drinks and a slice of cake. Free to all, but if you want to donate to cover costs, we won't stop you! If you would like to volunteer to staff this, please talk to Fr Mark.

Come and sing the Brahms Requiem - On Saturday 19th we will be holding a "come and sing" the Brahms Requiem at St Mary's, led by our Parish Choir with Jonathan Holmes conducting and Sarah Holmes and Simon Gregory playing the original piano duet accompaniment. We hope to be joined by members of local choirs and choral societies. If you would like to sing with us, please come to church at 2.30pm. The concert will begin at 7.30pm. (Doors open at 7pm). For full details please see page 4.

On-line Quiz - you are invited to join us on Wednesday 23rd for our Church online quiz using Zoom. The link to register for the quiz will be in the Weekly Notes nearer the date or you can email zoom@stmarysewell.com.

Sing-along Sound of Music - Saturday 26th. The hills are alive as the original Sing-along comes to Ewell. Doors open at 6.30pm for 7pm. Adult tickets £10, with a glass of fizz, children £5; additional fizz will be sold if needed!! Come and join us for a fun night for all the family. For those of you not yet converted, Sing-along Sound of Music is a screening of the classic Julie Andrews film musical in glorious, full-screen Technicolor, complete with lyric subtitles so that the whole audience can sing along. A heart-warming story, based on the real-life story of the Von Trapp Family, Sound of Music is filled with such timeless Rodgers & Hammerstein songs such as Do-Re-Mi, My Favourite Things, Edelweiss, So Long Farewell and of course The Sound of Music. And don't forget to dress up as one of your favourite things! Tickets from Mark or Lucy or on Eventbrite <https://singalongewell.eventbrite.com>.

Advent Sunday 27th - At 5.30pm we have our traditional service of readings, carols and hymns. Come and join us as we celebrate the first season of the Church year, leading up to Christmas.

The Spirit of Christmas, our winter dinner in Ewell Hall with a three course dinner and entertainment is on 3 December. Tickets cost £15 and are on sale now after Sunday services. They always sell out quickly, so don't miss out!

Apart from the items mentioned above, do check the Calendar on the back page to see the full list of services and events happening in November.

Every Blessing

Brahms Requiem

On Saturday November 19 we will be holding a "come and sing" Brahms Requiem, led by our Parish Choir with Jonathan Holmes conducting and Sarah Holmes and Simon Gregory playing the original piano duet accompaniment. We hope to be joined by members of local choirs and choral societies. If you would like to sing with us, please come to church at 2.30pm to register and to borrow a score. We will be singing in English from the New Novello Edition.

Registration is £10 including afternoon tea. We will rehearse until 4pm, then break for tea. After the break, we will resume until 5.30pm.

Doors open at 7pm and the concert will begin at 7.30pm. Audience admission is free to 18 and under and £10 over 18.

Dress for choir participants, black or white shirt, and black trousers/skirts and black shoes.

There will be an interval during which refreshments will be served at the back of the church.

We do hope you will wish to participate in this fabulous and deeply moving choral masterpiece.

Prayers for November

At this time of year, the trees are shedding their leaves and many fields have returned once again to bare earth. Nature itself appears to be dead or dying. It is certainly a time for quiet reflection; a time for remembering and a time for prayer. But in our reflecting, may we also remember in faith the one who died and rose again, our dear Lord, Jesus Christ. Whatever has befallen us, our families, our friends and neighbours, and the wider world during the past year, we can still cling to that which gives us hope.

Lord God, we pray for ourselves and all leaders of the Nations, asking You to pour out Your Holy Spirit of hope, love, and reconciliation on them and on us. Give us all a longing to bring freedom from fear and freedom from want to all peoples. Give strength and courage to those who particularly bear the heavy responsibilities for the peace of the world. May they and we work with all to break down the barriers which divide people. We pray that, whatever faith we may profess, we may also learn to respect those who sincerely hold another faith and build a community where there is harmony and understanding, that all may live together in peace. AMEN

A Prayer for Remembrance

Ever-living God,
 We remember those whom you have gathered from the storm of war
 into the peace of your presence;
 may that same peace calm our fears,
 bring justice to all peoples and establish harmony among the nations,
 through Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

PATRONAL ORGAN RECITAL 24 September

The annual St. Mary's Patronal Organ Recital, presented by our Director of Music, Jonathan Holmes, had been planned for 10 September. As a mark of respect to our late Queen, however, it was decided to postpone the event to a later date.

Two of the composers represented were exact contemporaries. It is unlikely that they ever met. Why was that? And who were they?

One of them is Gustav Holst who, despite his European-sounding name, was English. Holst won great respect as a music teacher, for many years at St. Paul's Girls' School, and as a composer is best known for the Suite called The Planets. The music sounds good on the wonderful Willis! Time permitted only one planet, Jupiter, the Bringer of Jollity – music of high good humour with a stately subsidiary theme familiar to all as the tune of 'I Vow to Thee, My Country'.

Holst died before the Second World War. As for his contemporary, hands up those who know Franz Schmidt! Little-known in this country, he was born in 1874 in Pozsony – the Hungarian name for Bratislava - and spent most of his life in Vienna. Schmidt's life seems to have been prone to misfortune. He himself always suffered from ill-health; his wife was murdered by the Nazis for her mental health issues; to cap it all, their daughter died in childbirth. To make matters even worse, Schmidt's music became adopted by the Nazis; that really sealed his fate. He was reckoned a Nazi-sympathiser; as a result, his music dropped out of favour after the War. Yet what he wrote for the organ is splendid, judging by what we heard tonight. With its arresting chords on loud reed stops, together with a flourish, the 'Hallelujah' Prelude and Fugue in D major makes a terrific impact. Another excellent work by Schmidt ended the first half, the Toccata in C which dates from 1924. All this music deserves to be better known.

The name Anna Lapwood may not be familiar to many. Born in 1995, she is Director of Music at Pembroke College, Cambridge. She is, however, an organist and a composer of distinction. She has made lovely transcriptions for organ of the Four Sea Interludes from the opera Peter Grimes by Benjamin Britten. Jonathan played two of the 'Sea Interludes' tonight, 'Dawn' and 'Sunday Morning'. Another modern composer who has been around for longer - she was born in 1951 - is Cecilia McDowell. We heard her 'Celebration' which was commissioned by the University of Portsmouth.

The second half was dominated by the complete Symphony No. 5 in F major by Charles-Marie Widor. Widor's name nowadays is virtually synonymous with his Toccata which has become popular at weddings. That is a bit unfair, because the Toccata is but the culmination of a five-movement symphony for organ. It was, therefore, interesting to hear the entire work and the toccata in context.

Finally, a Toccata by Patrick Gowers which was commissioned by the distinguished organist Simon Preston for the Cheltenham Festival in 1970. This is music one either loves or loathes: no half measures.

In conclusion, I should like to draw our readers' attention to the largely unsung hero of many a concert, including this one – the contribution made by the page-turner. Yet, without their help, the pianist or organist would have a much harder time.

IT WAS A TRULY WONDERFUL DAY FOR ALL

In the run up to A Day for All on Saturday 1 October rain was forecast, but on the day the weather couldn't have been better – the sun shone all day and more people came than ever before since the first A Day for All in 2013! The church, the churchyard and the Parish Room buzzed with people of all ages and with families with young children enjoying the craft activities and Mouse Trail in the church and the Shetland ponies, Hector and Biscuit with their small friends – guinea pigs, rabbits, tortoises, a baby hedgehog and bearded dragon in the church yard. The St Mary's bell ringers and Morris Men were a great attraction as were the illustrated talks on Nonsuch Palace and the Life of Bees. As ever, those serving (free) refreshments during the day and the bread and soup lunch were kept very busy! The results of the Photo Competition and the Dog Shows are shown on the next page and are available on our website <https://www.stmarysewell.com/a-day-for-all-2022-competition-winners/>.

To help you get a good feel of the day, here are some comments from people who were part of the day -

From a helper serving refreshments in the Parish Room -

"I would say that the Day for All had a real community feel as it was a great opportunity to meet and mix with familiar and new faces of Ewell in a beautiful setting. Whether it was simply chatting over tea and cake, listening to a talk about Nonsuch Palace, patting two gorgeous Shetland ponies or competing in our mini dog show, everyone had a relaxing time."

Our two friends from Churches Together in Ewell who brought along the Prayer Tree and offered chat or prayer through the day said –

"We had a great time at the Prayer Tree, with a great many responses to write prayers, but also quite a few people simply holding a bead and offering a sincere prayer. I was particularly blessed by the way the children responded to this and also used the leaves to be creative in their prayers."

and

"The day felt like a smooth, relaxing, warmth flowing from the helpers and visitors, into each other, like the gentleness that the Holy Spirit provides in a loving family."

A helper on SWOP shop said -

"Great weather for a great day, attracting many visitors. Hector and Biscuit made a good job of 'cutting the grass' and were adorable, along with their other furry friends. Two very interesting talks: Nonsuch Palace and Bee Keeping. Sadly, I missed the actual dog 'shows' but did see some of them in and around the church. The craft activities were a hit, the Swop Shop did very well and the Prayer Tree was popular. Super photographs with worthy winners. Excellent lunch and free flowing tea, coffee, cakes throughout the day. A happy day, culminating with a Celebration Service ..... and for those who chose, a Fish & Chip supper in Ewell Hall."

Congratulations to all who helped with organising and running the event so successfully – it takes a lot of hard work and many hours but is time well spent and much appreciated by one and all. Well done to everyone."

A member of the planning team said "I thought it was a brilliant day out for everyone and a huge success." and we had feedback from the charity Kingswood Shetlands and Friends Animal Therapy "It seemed a very successful community day."

The planning team hoped it would be a day when all ages from the local community and from the church enjoyed time together relaxing, having fun, maybe learning something new and being 'refreshed' with food and drinks. That is how it turned out and for that we say 'Thank you God', thank you to the many helpers and thank you to everyone who came along on the day. We offer our congratulations to all the competition winners.

ST. MARY'S ECO GROUP

This year COP 27 takes place in Egypt, in a region of the world that is already paying a high price for climate change.

Archbishop of York Stephen Cottrell has said:

“Nearly a year has passed since world leaders met at COP26 and I’m not sure many changes have yet been made to combat the climate emergency. As we look to COP27 I would like to offer my support to the idea of ringing out church bells and for congregations, communities and families to come together and express their hopes and fears for our environment and our future.”

Let us use our bells once again. Many churches last year came together, holding vigil as the bells rang with their prayers, songs, poems, candles and banners. ‘Ring out for Climate!’ enabled families and communities to express their hopes, fears and concerns about our environmental crises.

COP 27 starts on Monday 7 November, so I am suggesting that we ring out on Saturday 5 November. Perhaps at 5pm so that families can go on to their firework celebrations afterwards!

St Mary’s Bell Ringers agree and will be ringing our bells at 5pm on Saturday 5 November.

You can make your own contribution to COP27 by joining with faith communities throughout the world in prayer every day between 6-18 November. Here are some words you might use -

Creator God, giver of life, you sustain the earth and direct the nations. In this time of climate crisis guide those meeting at COP27 to take courageous action, together finding shared solutions that honour the needs of the poorest, while reflecting meaningful action from the richest and highest emitters. Challenge us each one to change our lifestyles; enable your church to be a beacon of hope; and foster within us a renewed vision of your purposes for your world; Through Jesus Christ our Lord, by and for whom all things were made. Amen.

On Sunday 16 October, we welcomed Andy Atkins, CEO (UK) of A Rocha, "The Rock", the Christian Eco Charity, to speak at our 9.30am service of Holy Communion. Thank you Andy for a most inspiring and informative talk.

If you have an ECO tip, the Eco Group would love to hear from you. Please get in touch with Sue Ayling at: assistantpriest@stmarysewell.com or 020 8337 6347.

13 November 2022, the Second Sunday before Advent; Luke 21:5-19

Many different people around the world believe in Jesus
